SCHEDULE

RULES FOR THE TAKING OF A POLL

1 When a poll is required to be taken at any parliamentary election, a public notice of the poll shall be given by the Returning Officer as soon as the period for acceptance of the nominations is closed. The names of all candidates nominated for the constituency together with the name of the parties to which they belong or the word "independent" if they are so described in the election document and the names of their respective proposers and seconders shall appear in the notice together with the date of polling day and the hours when the poll will be open. The notice shall be displayed conspicuously on or near the main door of the election room.

2 (1) The Registrar or the Returning Officer shall ensure that on polling day the election room is sufficiently furnished and equipped to facilitate the proper and orderly taking of the poll and shall in particular ensure that—

- (a) at least one table (in these Rules referred to as an "electoral table") is provided in the election room for use by officers in, and by election agents in observing, the checking of the credentials of, and the handing out of ballot papers to, electors;
- (b) a polling place is set aside in the election room and separated by a barrier from the remaining parts of the room;
- (c) the polling place is divided into compartments of sufficient size and so furnished that an elector can record his vote therein screened from observation and that a sufficient number of such compartments are provided having regard to the number of electors registered in the constituency;
- (d) one of the compartments in the polling place is of sufficient size to accommodate at least three persons at a time for the convenience of handicapped electors;
- (e) each compartment is furnished with an indelible pencil or pen attached thereto;
- (f) sufficient ballot papers are available printed on paper capable of being easily folded up but of sufficient thickness to prevent the marking on one side from being read through the paper from the other;
- (g) a ballot box is provided of convenient size, furnished with a secure lock and key and so constructed that ballot papers can be introduced into it but cannot be withdrawn from it without the box being unlocked.

(2) In arranging the furniture, equipment and manning of an election room on polling day, the Returning Officer shall seek to ensure a free flow of electors from the entrance, via the officer checking their credentials to the officer handing out the ballot papers and thence through the barrier, one at a time, to the polling place and shall also position an officer in the vicinity of the ballot box to check that the market ballot papers are introduced into the ballot box thereafter by electors in an orderly manner and in accordance with these Rules.

3 For the guidance of electors in voting, each compartment in the polling place shall be posted with the directions written in conspicuous characters and approved by the Registrar.

4 (1) No candidate, except for the purpose of voting may be present in the election room during the taking of the poll nor shall any candidate approach nearer than seven metres to any of the doors of the election room during the hours that the poll is open.

(2) The representation of candidates by election agents in relation to candidates in the election room shall be governed by the following provisions of this paragraph—

- (a) there shall be entitled to such representation—
 - (i) every political party having a party candidate in the election; and
 - (ii) every independent candidate;
- (b) the representation to which a political party or independent candidate is entitled under this paragraph is representation by one election agent for each electoral table and, in addition, one further election agent to perform any or all of the duties involved in relieving another agent and acting as courier or messenger for the party or independent candidate for which or whom he is acting as agent.

5 The Returning Officer immediately before the commencement of the poll shall show the ballot box empty to such persons as may then be present in the election room so that they may see that it is empty and shall, after placing therein any ballot papers which may be delivered to him in respect of an advanced poll, then lock it up and keep the key himself and shall place the box in his view for the receipt of ballot papers keeping it so locked until the conclusion of the poll.

6 The Returning Officer shall not allow anyone to be present in the polling place at any time during the poll except the electors engaged in voting, friends of handicapped electors, and the officers assisting him in the election room, and no other person (except an election agent) shall be allowed within the election room during the poll without the permission of the Returning Officer.

7 Where the responsibility for the taking of a poll has been divided pursuant to section 35, a Returning Officer shall ensure that—

- (a) he (assisted by any presiding officer assigned to him) is furnished with that part only of the parliamentary register which pertains to the part of the poll that falls within his own responsibility;
- (b) the relevant electoral table or tables are assigned to him; and

- (c) he checks the credentials of, and hands out ballot papers to, those electors for whom he is responsible and no others.

8 A Returning Officer or presiding officer shall check the identity of each intending elector by examining his signed voter's card or other means of identification produced, and verifying from the copy of the parliamentary register in the officer's possession that the elector is not recorded as having already voted. If the Returning Officer or presiding officer is so satisfied, and subject to any challenge under section 50, a line shall be drawn through the elector's name on the copy of the parliamentary register and one ballot paper shall be given to the elector.

9 (1) An elector receiving a ballot paper shall proceed forthwith through the barrier to one of the compartments of the polling place and shall there, with the indelible pencil or pen provided mark his ballot paper and fold it up, so that it cannot be seen for whom he has voted but the official mark thereon is visible upon it.

(2) The elector shall then display the folded ballot paper to the Returning Officer, permit the mark to be verified, and then put it into the ballot box in the presence of the Returning Officer without showing the front of it to any person present.

(3) An elector shall vote without undue delay and, having put his ballot paper into the ballot box, he shall withdraw from the election room forthwith.

10 At the count of votes the Returning Officer shall endorse any ballot paper appearing to him to be void under section 54 with the word "rejected" and if an objection is made by or on behalf of any candidate shall further endorse it with the words "rejection objected to".

11 (1) On the completion of the counting of the votes the Returning Officer in the presence of such of the candidates as may choose to attend, shall seal up in separate packets all—

- (a) counted ballot papers;
- (b) rejected ballot papers;
- (c) spoilt ballot papers; and
- (d) unused ballot papers in his possession, and shall endorse on each packet a description of its contents, the date of the election, and the name of the constituency.

(2) The Returning Officer shall then deliver all the aforesaid packets so endorsed to the Registrar together with a statement showing the total number of ballot papers prepared by him for the election and accounting for them all under one of the heads above mentioned.

12 Notwithstanding anything in the preceding provisions of this Schedule, if the Registrar is satisfied that due to exceptional circumstances it is in the interests of public health or safety to do so, he may impose requirements that provide for—
